Manchester
Christmas Relief

Welcome

Welcome to Manchester Christmas Relief's Impact Report for 2025.

This report is a chance to reflect on everything our community made possible during another incredibly busy Christmas campaign. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, volunteers, local businesses and community partners, we were able to provide practical support, festive food and gifts to people across Manchester, Stockport and Trafford at a time when many needed it most.

Behind every figure in this report is a person or family who trusted us to help and a supporter who gave their time, money, skills or kindness to make that help possible.

Inside, you'll find an overview of what we delivered, where support went, how donations were used and the difference we created together. We're proud to share both our achievements and what we've learned as we continue developing our work.

Thank you for standing alongside us and helping ensure more people could experience dignity, care and joy at Christmas.

Our Trustees

Jen Schuller

Jen is the founder and a trustee of Manchester Christmas Relief and has led a Christmas appeal for six years, supporting families across Manchester with essential festive food and gifts.

A passionate community advocate, Jen has founded two charities and has dedicated much of her life to helping others. Alongside her trustee role, Jen runs her own cake-making business and continues to volunteer her time to support community causes.

Her commitment to charity and community work began young, at 18 she received two awards, including a Pride of Manchester Award, for co-organising the 2011 Manchester Riot clean-up. During the Covid-19 pandemic, she established a local support network to help vulnerable residents with essential needs, and in 2022 she volunteered in Ukraine, providing humanitarian support across the country. Although running a business keeps her busy, Jen treasures time spent with her family and cats, and loves travelling to experience new cultures, languages, and cuisines.

Having experienced poverty growing up, her unwavering belief in community, compassion, and dignity for all continues to drive her work and the mission of Manchester Christmas Relief.

Amiruth
Sridharan

Amiruth brings 15 years of healthcare expertise in challenging environments and managing complex social, medical and logistic issues in extreme circumstances.

Amiruth works for the NHS as a Doctor. Amiruth has a long history of working with various charities and in 2024 joined Manchester Christmas Relief as Trustee/Chair.

Rob
Black

Rob has had a 36 year (and still counting!) career in the insurance industry, initially working for large insurance companies and then for the last 20 years as a Director at an independently owned brokers.

His role involves building trusted relationships with business owners, advising them on the right insurance cover to protect their business and negotiating with insurers to get the best price.

On becoming one of our trustees Rob said:- "I wanted to use the varied skills I've learned in my career and the connections I've developed with many local businesses to help a charitable organisation. I particularly wanted to work with a smaller, locally based charity where you can really contribute and see the results of your work first hand.

In November 2024 I came across Jen's call for volunteers on Facebook and decided to get involved with Manchester Christmas Relief. Having really enjoyed the volunteering experience and being part of a team of like minded people I wanted to get more involved so became a trustee this year. It's been great to work with my fellow trustees, learn some new skills and help achieve our goal of delivering practical support and compassion to even more people in Manchester this Christmas."

Emma Heap

Emma is a chartered accountant and financial crime specialist.

Emma is passionate about social mobility, also volunteering with One Million Mentors as a community mentor.

Similar to Rob, Emma heard about Manchester Christmas Relief via a friend last year and volunteered in the scout hut with her children.

They all loved the volunteering experience, seeing first hand the impact Jen had created and met some great people on the day.

As a trustee and treasurer, Emma supports the background operations of the charity.

About Us

Manchester Christmas Relief is a registered charity (1210727) dedicated to spreading joy and alleviating hardship for families and individuals across Manchester during the Christmas season.

We provide Christmas dinner parcels containing everything needed to create a delicious Christmas meal, including all the trimmings, treats and condiments. Alongside this, we distribute brand new toys, gifts or books for children aged 0–18, ensuring every family can experience the warmth, dignity and happiness that Christmas brings.

Our work is rooted in community spirit and compassion. We believe that no family or individual should face Christmas without support, and no child should wake up on Christmas morning without a gift to unwrap.

Through the dedication of our volunteers, supporters and partners, Manchester Christmas Relief has grown from a small grassroots initiative into a trusted lifeline for hundreds of families and individuals across the city. With the generosity of donors and the continued support of local businesses, we are able to make a tangible and meaningful difference in the lives of those who need it most.

Looking ahead to 2026 and beyond we plan to extend our work beyond the Christmas appeal by introducing new community-focused events aimed at reducing loneliness and improving social inclusion, for example;

A Christmas event for children, aiming to support children from low-income families whose parents or carers are unable to afford social activities during the Christmas holidays. By providing a fun, inclusive experience, we aim to help children feel confident, happy and able to return to school and friendship circles feeling similar to their peers, reducing the social and emotional impact of financial hardship.

A Christmas event for Isolated Adults, Elderly and Disabled people which will focus on reducing loneliness and isolation among elderly individuals, particularly those who may feel disconnected from their communities.

Through shared activities and social interaction, we aim to create a welcoming space where older people feel valued, included and supported.

This impact report reflects our achievements and the profound difference we have made together. Thank you for being part of our journey.

At Manchester Christmas Relief, our mission is fueled by the kindness, generosity, and unwavering support of our donors, partners, and volunteers.

Every contribution whether a financial donation, a gift, or your time plays a vital role in transforming lives at Christmas.

Because of you, families facing hardship can sit down to a warm Christmas dinner, and children who might have gone without can experience the joy of unwrapping a new toy on Christmas morning.

Your support doesn't just provide essentials; it creates moments of happiness, dignity, and hope for those who need it most in our community.

You are the heart of our mission. Your belief in what we do drives us to work harder, reach further, and dream bigger.

Together, we are not just meeting immediate needs but also strengthening the bonds of our community and inspiring hope for a brighter future.

From all of us at Manchester Christmas Relief and from every individual, family and child whose Christmas you've made magical, thank you. Your kindness changes lives.

Volunteer Feedback and Reflections

Sarah & Daughters Isabella (9) and Sophia (6)

What made you decide to volunteer with Manchester Christmas Relief?

Christmas has always been a special time for us, where we get to spend time with family and life gets to slow down. We appreciate that we are living in difficult times where some people need support, and that Christmas is not the same for everyone, and we wanted to do something to help those in need.

Christmas is often a time of abundance for many and it is easy to lose sight of what life can be like for others and what is important. We would hope that everyone gets to feel the anticipation and excitement of Christmas morning, to receive a gift and enjoy a special meal together. If we can help, in even a small way, to facilitate that we would want to do that, and that is what motivated us to get involved.

What kind of things do you usually help with when you volunteer?

I have volunteered on my own and with my daughters, as well as with various family members, having brought along my sister, nieces, father-in-law and friends to get involved. Everyone has always been keen to do more .

We have participated in various roles including shopping, sorting and packing. It is great to get stuck into a task and be able to see progress made. My children enjoy being involved so much; they are determined to find things that are given to us to shop for and love the sorting at the Scout Hut. The girls love trying to find the perfect present from the range available to match the criteria provided to them for each child (and having a similar aged person's view seems very useful!)

We brought along my daughter's friend (Age 9) to help this year (when I realised we had arranged a play date at the same time as the slot we had signed up for), and she has already asked to help again next year.

Is there a moment or experience while volunteering that really stayed with you?

It is always poignant to see the messages of thanks that are forwarded to the Volunteers. The satisfaction of working as a team and the general energy at the hut are also great to experience.

Volunteer Feedback and Reflections

From what you have seen, what difference do you think Manchester Christmas Relief makes to families and individuals?

We appreciate with the cost of living as it is, families are having to make difficult choices. As a parent, I know we all want to give our children happy memories and special times and if MCR can help provide this, that is a wonderful thing.

The traditional Christmas dinner, a Christmas chocolate in the morning, the joy of wrapping a gift for a loved one that you can't wait to see them open. Whilst I know it is only one day, it can be such a special one for many and one that provides you with childhood memories that you hold precious well into adulthood. MCR can help provide this for those who are not necessarily able to do this without support.

How has volunteering with Manchester Christmas Relief affected you personally?

It is easy to take the privileges you have for granted when they become part of everyday life. Volunteering has made me think more about those who are in need of support and the situations and challenges that people may find themselves in.

Being involved with MCR at various stages in the mission has also made me realise what a massive undertaking it is to help the number of families referred to MCR and how well the team manage it. So much planning is required and there will always be some unknowns until close to the day, in terms of what is required and what is already available etc, the logistics of the deliveries....Well done team!

What would you say to someone who is thinking of volunteering for the charity?

DO IT!

Every little bit helps, whether it is a financial contribution or volunteering time, it will be appreciated. I appreciate Christmas is a busy time for most, but it is time well spent and if you can factor it in to your festive agenda, it feels satisfying to be able to make effective use of the time you give to be able to help others. I think it is good to get your children involved too. At a time when they are often asked what is on their Christmas List, it is good to help them think about others instead, and they have so much fun in the process. (I had to drag them away to get them to bed!).

There are various roles that all help and so you can find something that should work with your schedule and availability.

Sarah, Isabella and Sophia

I'm Zoe and this was my second Christmas season with MCR. I got involved with MCR following a shout-out on a local community Facebook page asking for volunteers. I've always been keen to be involved with Charitable work and I'm a Christmas fan so this was right up my street!

In the first year (2024 season) I helped at the Hut with sorting and packing food parcels, but I wasn't able to help as much as I would've liked.

This season (2025) I got more involved with shopping, collecting donations at a supermarket, as well as sorting and packing donations (food/toys) at the Hut ready for delivery.

I wanted to volunteer with MCR as I think it's important for us to help other people when they need it. I was particularly enamoured by the volume of food donations we received in a 2-hour shift at the supermarket - I couldn't quite believe how generous people were, particularly as times are tough for people with the cost of living!

I think MCR has a significant impact on the families that it supports lives - without which, many of these would simply not afford to put Christmas dinner on the table, or provide a gift for their children.

I have thoroughly enjoyed my time volunteering in 2025, met a number of great people, not least the founder Jen, who is inspirational. I look forward to being back in 2026!

Natalie & Angela

My name is Nat and 2025 was the second year I've volunteered with Manchester Christmas Relief, together with my mum, Angela.

Christmas 2025 we helped with sorting, toy shopping and deliveries. Volunteering in the food poverty sector is very important to me. I volunteer with different charities in this sector throughout the year and have been doing so since 2020 (the first Covid lockdown).

Towards the end of 2024, I became aware of Manchester Christmas Relief via my connection with Jen Schuller. So my mum and I decided to start volunteering for this charity, instead of the one we used to help with the previous Christmases as we felt that our time and efforts would be more valuable and 'needed' at a relatively new charity with comparatively smaller funding and publicity than at a well-established and more 'prominent' one.

I personally find it very concerning that food poverty is becoming an ever-increasing issue in our society. This of course is prevalent each and every day but it is particularly upsetting that there are people, and especially families, who, without the help of charities, would not be able to afford a Christmas meal and presents for their children.

One moment that really stood out to me was a delivery I made to a single mother of two young children who, upon me putting the bags down at her doorstep, just stared at them for a moment and then said "WOW!!! This is so much, I can't believe it, thank you so, so much". I remember walking back to my car and telling my mum about the interaction and we both got quite emotional for a mixture of reasons - on the one hand, that we're incredibly lucky and fortunate to not be in a position that requires us to rely on charities / the welfare system and on the other hand, that charities like Manchester Christmas Relief exist as they play such a vital role in our local communities and make it possible for people, especially children, to have food and joy at Christmas.

I would also like to mention that I have found the charity to be highly inclusive and welcoming to anyone which to me is an important factor in deciding which charity I should dedicate my time to.

To anyone thinking about volunteering for Manchester Christmas Relief, I can only say: Do it! It will be good for your soul, your karma, your sense of community and belonging and, most importantly, your time and effort will go to the people who are most in need. Their children will grow up safe in the knowledge that, however tough times might be, there are people out there who are willing to help to put food in their belly and a smile on their face.

My mum and I are definitely going to be volunteering with Manchester Christmas Relief again in 2026.

2025 Referrer Feedback

1. What circumstances typically lead you to refer individuals or families to Manchester Christmas Relief?

All clients referred are victims of domestic abuse and live in safe refuge accommodation. This is the first time most families will be able to celebrate Christmas. Often the victim would not be able to afford Christmas presents for their children. We can have families and individuals who have no recourse to public funds or are waiting for benefits.

2. What impact have you observed on people after they receive our support?

Families were surprised at the amount of food and gifts given to them. Many of our families did not think that they deserve to have a Christmas. This is for most of them the first time they have had any kindness shown to them or their children.

3. In what ways does our support affect wellbeing, stress levels, or feelings of dignity and inclusion?

The stress and worry of giving their children a Christmas was reduced and for individuals they felt that they for the first time they matter to someone.

Residents words – thank you for the gifts and food it is too much thank you.

4. How does our service support you in your role, particularly during the Christmas period?

Your service provides a way that we can support clients and ease the stress of providing for their families at Christmas. It helps children to feel the magic of Santa and that they are no different than their friends at school. This helps our service to support clients and ensure that they have their needs met during the Christmas period.

5. What do you feel would happen for individuals or families if this support wasn't available?

Families would not be able to provide the necessary items for their children. It would make the situation they are in more stressful and anxious placing more pressure on families who were healing from trauma.

6. Is there anything you feel we do particularly well, or any feedback you've heard from those you've referred to our services?

The communication from yourselves is excellent and that attention to detail for the referred families.

2025 Referrer Feedback

Hi

Thank you for the support provided for our families.

What circumstances typically lead you to refer individuals or families to Manchester Christmas Relief? Some of the families referred to worked part-time and were still struggling to balance their income against household bills, particularly energy bills. Some families were single-parent families and in receipt of benefits.

What impact have you observed on people after they receive our support? It gave them a sense of relief knowing that they had food and could provide presents for their children.

In what ways does our support affect wellbeing, stress levels, or feelings of dignity and inclusion? For some of the families, the support relieved a lot of stress – mentally and financially. It made them feel that they had not let their children down, so gave them a sense of worth and knowing that their children would be included in conversations when returning to school after the Christmas break.

How does our service support you in your role, particularly during the Christmas period? Knowing that we have an organisation that can support the needs of families in our community is precious.

What do you feel would happen to individuals or families if this support weren't available? I think families would turn to borrowing money from the wrong agencies, and that could result in a debt that never ends. Some may just go without, which could affect their well-being.

Is there anything you feel we do particularly well, or any feedback you've heard from those you've referred to our services? All of the families that received support were delighted. Some talked about the `thoughtfulness` that had gone into the parcels. Others talked about the `generosity` of the parcels. One family said it was the `best Christmas support` that she had received.

Kind regards

2025 Referrer Feedback

What circumstances typically lead you to refer individuals or families to Manchester Christmas Relief? As a housing and wellbeing officer for women's only supported accommodation all of our customers come from homelessness / DV services and are very low income, some of whom have complex dual diagnosis drug and alcohol and have difficult family situations so xmas is a particularly difficult time of year for them – financially and mentally.

What impact have you observed on people after they receive our support? Improved mood, feeling that there are services and people who care about them.

In what ways does our support affect wellbeing, stress levels, or feelings of dignity and inclusion? Lots of our customers were surprised by how substantial the parcels were and felt overjoyed with them, many felt cared for and thankful for the help.

How does our service support you in your role, particularly during the Christmas period? Provided a lot of joy! helped with community cohesion, and combating loneliness within the building with residents sharing food and meals together as well as inviting friends over. It helps us add another tangible kind of support alongside the offer we give 24/7 on site which is amazing.

What do you feel would happen for individuals or families if this support wasn't available? A lot of our residents wouldn't be able to buy such food as they are low income so they would go without which would then have a knock on effect on loneliness, isolation and low mood.

Is there anything you feel we do particularly well, or any feedback you've heard from those you've referred to our services? Wonderful service, really streamlined process – will attach feedback from our customers so thankful of the support.

Thank you so much for the support on Christmas!! A few words from one of our sponors

When Giving Back, Becomes The Gift

As soon as Rob Black, Development Director at C&C Insurance Brokers, mentioned he was a trustee at Manchester Christmas Relief, there was only ever going to be one response: we're in! And what followed was something pretty special.

Manchester Christmas Relief is an incredible, local charity, supporting families right on our doorstep at a time when both emotional and financial pressures can hit hardest. The cause immediately struck a chord across C&C - not just with our team, but with our suppliers and insurer partners too.

Together, across the company, staff, suppliers and insurers, we raised nearly £5,000, helping to fund essential food parcels and Christmas gifts for families who otherwise might have gone without. For a small, local charity, that kind of support makes a real, tangible difference.

But it didn't stop at fundraising.

C&C staff went a step further: donating gifts, organising collections, and volunteering their time to become "Santa Sleigh" drivers, delivering festive packages across Manchester. This is where the impact really hit home.

"It was incredible to see such joy and gratitude when I knocked on a door," said Karl Perry, one of our volunteer drivers. "People were so thankful and excited. It was really very humbling, and it certainly gave me cause for reflection. I'm so grateful C&C got involved."

A few words from one of our sponsors

That sentiment was echoed across the team.

“Seeing it up close was a proper reality check,” added Bryn Gleave. “One family became quite emotional when we arrived – that really stuck with us. It makes you appreciate what you’ve got.”

“It was only a few hours on a morning,” said Harriet Edwards, “but it made such a massive difference. It was incredibly grounding, and I felt genuinely rewarded to be part of a team – both C&C and MCR – that gives back in such a meaningful way.”

For Managing Director Malcolm Cooke, the initiative perfectly captured what C&C is all about:

“Christmas can be an emotional time, but when families can’t afford a meal or gifts for their children, it’s heartbreaking. Being able to help change that, even in a small way, is a privilege. I couldn’t be prouder of how our team got behind this. It’s a truly exceptional cause, and I’d encourage any business to support it.”

And as Rob so powerfully put it:

“These aren’t people on the other side of the world, they’re just down the road, in our own city. The impact of supporting our local community at a time of real need is immeasurable.”

He’s absolutely right. Because while people often say Christmas is a time for giving, this experience proved something even more powerful: that when you give locally, and you give together, you often get far more back than you ever expected.
